INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Future 5, Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Future 5, Inc. (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2024, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Future 5, Inc. as of June 30, 2024, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Future 5, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Future 5, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Future 5, Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgement, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Future 5, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
June 30, 2024

NOTE 1. ORGANIZATION

Future 5, Inc. ("Organization") is a not-for-profit organization (non-stock corporation in the State of Connecticut) that helps motivated, under-resourced students in Stamford connect to their full potential leading to independence and productive citizenship. Future 5, Inc. strengthens a student's self-esteem through character building workshops, job preparation programs, college and career access and success support and one-on-one coaching. Future 5, Inc. students develop the motivation and a game plan for achievement in school and life.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting reflecting all significant receivables, payables and other liabilities. Revenues are reported as income when earned rather than received and expenses are reported in the period incurred rather than paid.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") which require its financial position and activities according to the following asset classifications:

Net assets without donor restrictions – net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expended for any purpose in performing Future 5's primary objective at the discretion of the Organization's management and Board of Directors.

Net assets with donor restrictions – net assets that are subject to restrictions imposed by donors. Some restrictions are temporary in nature which can be met by actions of the Organization or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature where the donor has directed that the funds be maintained in perpetuity.

Measure of Operations

The statement of activities reports all changes in net assets from operating and non-operating activities. Operating activities are attributable to the Organization's ongoing activities. Non-operating activities are limited to resources that generate return from investments, depreciation, amortization and other activities considered to be of a more unusual and nonrecurring nature.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The most significant estimate and assumption relates to the functional expense allocation. On an ongoing basis, management evaluates the estimates and assumptions based on new information. Management believes that the estimates and assumptions are reasonable in the circumstances; however, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Organization considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less, at the time of purchase, to be cash equivalents. Certificates of deposit are also deemed to be cash equivalents even though the maturities exceed three months. At June 30, 2024, the certificate had a rate of 4.50%.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost or if received by donation, at estimated fair value at the time such items are received. Depreciation is recorded using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives that range from three to sixteen years. Expenditures that improve or extend the useful lives are capitalized. Routine repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the estimated useful life of the asset or the term of the lease inclusive of expected renewals.

Contributions and Contributions Receivable

Contributions received are recorded as net assets without donor restrictions or net assets with donor restrictions, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor-imposed restrictions. Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as an increase in net assets without donor restrictions if the restriction expires in the reporting period in which the contribution is recognized. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Contributions receivable are recorded as revenue in the period received at the estimated fair value of the donor's pledge. The estimated fair value of the pledge is its discounted net present value which uses discount factors that approximate the risk and expected timing of future payments. Payments scheduled to be received in more than one year are discounted at a rate of 3.5%. Management will write off a contribution receivable once determined to be uncollectible.

Donated Assets, Materials, Goods, Services and Facilities

All assets, materials, goods, services and facilities that meet the requirements for recognition under U.S. GAAP are recorded as contributions in the accompanying financial statements at their estimated fair market value upon the date of receipt. Donated services are recognized as contributions if the services (a) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or (b) require specialized skills, are performed by people with those skills, and would otherwise be purchased by the Organization. In addition, many individuals, corporations and organizations underwrite the cost of events, awards and special publicity by making contributions. Volunteers also donate significant amounts of their time to the Organization throughout the year that is not recognized as contributions in the financial statements since the recognition criteria is not met.

Functional Expenses

The costs of providing program and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities and in detail on the statement of functional expenses. Expenses are charged directly to program services, management and general, and development and fundraising based on specific identification to the extent practicable. Expenses related to more than one function have been allocated based primarily on either time spent by Future 5, Inc.'s employees or square footage, as appropriate. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with a specific function but provide for the overall support and direction of the Organization. The expenses that are allocated include salaries and related expenses, professional fees, program activities, occupancy cost and maintenance, office supplies and expenses, telephone, printing and postage insurance and other.

Revenue Recognition

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606) which requires the recognition of revenue when promised goods or services are transferred to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which an entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods and services. A contract liability is also required to be recorded when an entity has the right to receive payment in advance of the satisfaction of performance obligations. ASU 2014-09 became effective with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2020 and financial statements prepared using the generally accepted accounting principles must follow Topic 606 guidelines. Currently the Organization does not have any revenue streams that qualify as exchange transactions.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, FASB issued ASU 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842) which supersedes the leasing guidance in ASC 840, Leases. Under ASU 2016-02 leases with terms longer than 12 months are required to recognize the rights and obligations of new and existing lease arrangements as assets and liabilities on the statement of financial position. Leases will be classified as either finance or operating, with classification determining the pattern of expense recognition on the statement of activities. Topic 842 was effective with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2022. Adoption of the standard at this time had no impact on the financial statements due to the immaterial nature of equipment operating leases and the short-term nature of operating leases for office space; however, it will have an impact for the next fiscal year.

NOTE 3. TAX STATUS

Future 5, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization as described in Section 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code and is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Organization accounts for uncertainty in income tax positions in the financial statements by applying a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken and has concluded that as of June 30, 2024, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements. The Organization is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. Federal information returns are subject to examination for a period of three years from the filing date of the return; fiscal years ended June 30, 2021 - June 30, 2023 remain open.

NOTE 4. CONCENTRATIONS

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Organization to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents and contributions receivable.

The Organization maintains its cash and cash equivalent balances at several institutions. The cash and cash equivalent balances at each institution except two are insured up to $250,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"). Two institutions are covered by Securities Investors Protection Corporation ("SIPC") up to $500,000, which includes a limit of $250,000 for cash. At June 30, 2024, the Organization's cash and cash equivalents did not exceed FDIC limits and cash coverage under the SIPC limit was exceeded by $1,382,311. Management believes the Organization is not subject to significant credit risk because of the high quality of the depositories and the product subject to SIPC limits is invested in paper backed by the credit of the United States.

During the year ended June 30, 2024, the Organization received $253,030 for general operating funds from one donor. Two donors represented 19% of total contributions for the fiscal year. At June 30, 2024, contributions receivable is due from three donors with two donors representing 73% of the balance.

NOTE 10. BOARD DESIGNATED NET ASSETS

Effective June 30, 2023, the Board adopted a Discretionary Reserve policy whereby the Board will annually designate specific cash reserves to be restricted from management's operational use. The Board strives to build ample cash reserves to support the Organization during adverse environments. Under specific policy approvals, use of the funds can be authorized for emergency purposes or for any purpose that aligns to the best interests of the Organization's mission. Effective June 30, 2024, the Board approved increasing the size of the Discretionary Reserve fund to $1 million and investing those funds into a treasury bond ladder. At any time, the Finance Committee may approve that a specific dollar amount be added. Given the volatile nature of fundraising, the Board felt it was prudent to grow the Discretionary Reserve to an amount equal to at least one year of operating cost.

NOTE 11. OPERATING LEASE COMMITMENTS

The Organization entered into an operating lease in June 2017, amended July 27, 2021, for office space with a term that extends through August 2023. On December 22, 2022, a second amendment to the lease agreement originally negotiated in June 2017 was signed for the purpose of leasing additional space in the same location at $1,447 per month in accordance with the same terms and conditions as the original lease. A third amendment to the June 2017 lease was signed in October 2023 for the entire space covered in the previous lease amendments for a period of one year September 1, 2023 – August 31, 2024.

Future 5, Inc. entered into a second operating lease in September 2017 for additional office space with a term that extends through August 2023. The lease was not renewed and beginning September 2023, the Organization is leasing this space on a month-to-month basis.

Subsequent to year end, the Organization entered into a lease for a new location and relocated to larger space in January, 2025.
